Presentation

Reflections on Flying Warbirds

Dave Wigley

Dave will be talking about his experience in volunteering at the American air power museum. Dave has had a long aviation career spanning his early time in the air cadets, the RCAF and 31 years as an airline pilot.

See poster below from his presentation in Ottawa.

Dave will be joining us on Line.

NEXT MEETING OF THE OTTAWA CHAPTER CANADIAN AVIATION HISTORICAL SOCIETY

REFLECTIONS ON FLYING WARBIRDS AT THE AMERICAN AIRPOWER MUSEUM

David Wigley

Expat pilot David Wigley has been volunteering at the American Airpower Museum on Long Island, New York for the past ten years. David grew up in suburban Montreal and joined the Royal Canadian Air Cadets as a teenager. He served nine years in the Royal Canadian Air Force flying the CC-130 Hercules and CanForce One in the Canadair Challenger. He recently retired after 31 years as an airline pilot and lives on Long Island, New York.

Join us as David shares his thoughts and experiences piloting the Museum's historic aircraft, as well as tells a brief history of the Museum, including a summary of the large collection of static and flying aircraft, some with a Canadian connection.
